BASTIAAN WOUDT

KARAWAN

Morocco · 2016

Karawan is Bastiaan Woudt's visual journey through Morocco. A body of work born from the tension between a photographer's controlled studio practice and the overwhelming sensory reality of an unfamiliar land. The project was made possible by the Van Vlissingen Art Foundation, which in 2016 awarded Woudt the annual prize for a promising Dutch artist.

The journey lasted two weeks, from 14 to 28 September 2016. The route traced a large circle through the country: Marrakech, El Jadida, Rabat, Meknes, Fez, the Sahara at Merzouga, Taroudant, Essaouira, and back to Marrakech.
Portraits, landscapes, and still lifes merge into a single monochrome narrative about contrast, restraint, and the search for a personal visual language in foreign territory. Woudt arrived with the same blank state he brings to the studio. No preconceptions, no mood boards. Just the country, the camera, and himself.
The choice for black and white was not aesthetic but conceptual. Morocco, with its saturated colours and photogenic surfaces, could easily seduce a photographer into cliché. Monochrome strips that away. What remains is form, texture, light. The images become less about Morocco and more about seeing.

"THE REAL VOYAGE OF DISCOVERY CONSISTS NOT IN SEEKING NEW LANDSCAPES, BUT IN HAVING NEW EYES."

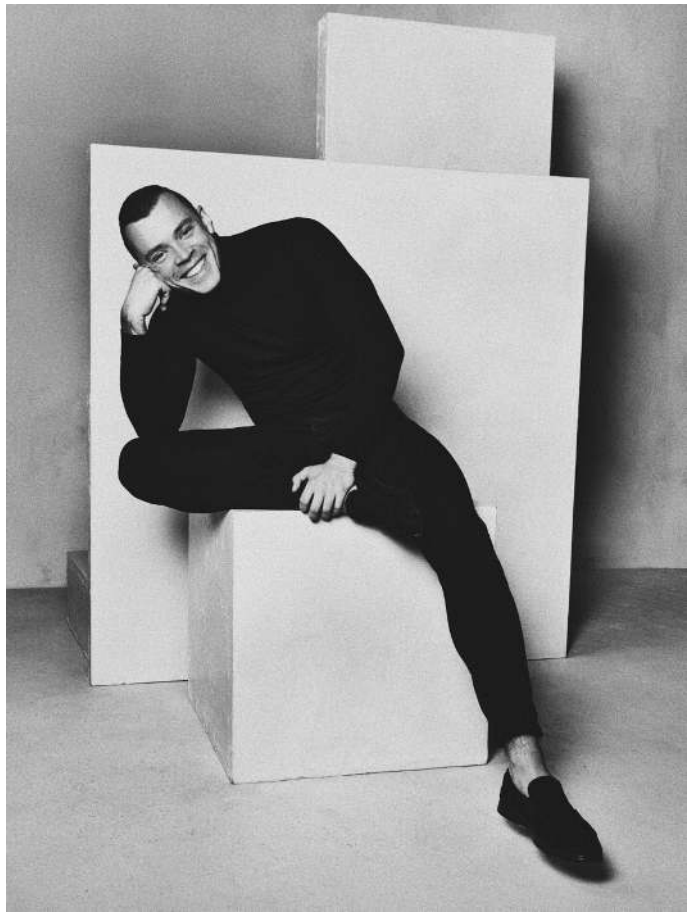

– Marcel Proust

BASTIAAN WOUDT

Bastiaan Woudt (b. 1987, the Netherlands) is a Dutch fine art photographer whose monochrome work is defined by graphic clarity, strong contrast and a deliberate use of negative space. His images strip away the incidental to reveal form, texture, light and shadow in their purest state.

His work has been exhibited internationally at galleries and institutions including Bildhalle (Zurich, Amsterdam), Atlas Gallery (London), Jackson Fine Art (Atlanta), Fahey/Klein Gallery (Los Angeles) and Jaeger Art (Berlin). His photographs are held in private and public collections worldwide, including the Getty Museum (Los Angeles) and the Rijksmuseum (Amsterdam).

Karawan was the project that confirmed what Woudt already suspected: his strength lies in simplicity, in the reduction of chaos to clarity. The three pillars of his practice – portraits, stills, and landscapes – came together here for the first time as a conscious, coherent body of work.

THE WORKS

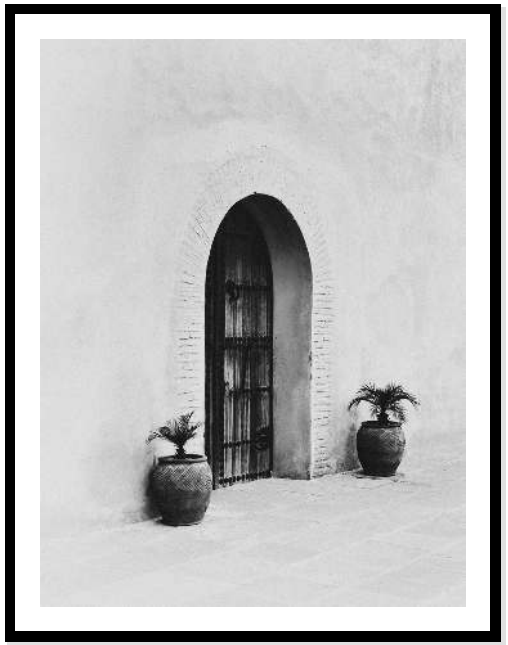

All prints are archival pigment prints on Innova Fibaprint Baryta paper, 310 gsm – a heavyweight, fibre-based baryta paper with a smooth surface known for its deep blacks and tonal range. Prints are produced exclusively by The Final Art Print, the sole printing partner worldwide.

THE BOOK

Bastiaan Woudt in Marokko documents the full scope of the Karawan project: the journey, the portraits, the landscapes, and the studio work that completed the series. The book was written by Willemijn van der Zwaan and published as part of the “Inspiratie” series by the Van Vlissingen Art Foundation.
